

THE TATNALL SCHOOL

Science Teacher

Founded in 1930, The Tatnall School is an independent, coeducational, college preparatory day school situated on a pastoral, 110-acre campus in Greenville, Delaware, near Wilmington. Tatnall includes four academic divisions with 500 students from age 2 through grade 12. Our challenging academic curriculum and programs, combined with award-winning faculty and state-of-the-art facilities, create an environment that promotes the joyful pursuit of excellence. Guided by our motto Omnia in Caritate, or “All things in Love,” we are committed to cultivating a community rooted in care and connection.

Tatnall is seeking an experienced and passionate science teacher to join our Upper School (grades 9 -12). The ideal candidate can teach Biology, Environmental Science, and/or Physics, depending on experience, and should be well-versed in current pedagogies of science, and interested in integrating the use of our outdoor learning spaces into the curriculum. Special consideration will be given to candidates who can contribute to student extracurricular life.

Key Responsibilities:

- Teach five sections
- Serve as an academic advisor

A Tatnall Teacher:

- Demonstrates a student-centered approach to education
- Designs and implements engaging lessons that develop critical thinking and real-world connections
- Builds strong relationships with students and creates a supportive and positive classroom environment
- Provides clear, timely feedback to support student growth
- Shares a commitment for diversity, equity, and community through culturally responsive and identity-affirming practices
- Works closely and collegially with students, faculty, administrators, and parents in a lively independent school setting.

Qualifications and Skills:

- Bachelor’s degree required; Master’s degree preferred
- Three or more years of teaching experience is preferred; strong early career candidates will be considered, and mentorship is available

- Experience working with diverse groups of students and an appreciation for a range of learning styles
- Excellent written and oral communication skills

Interested candidates should electronically submit a cover letter and resume to:
